Dear friends at Balerno
Thank you for all your support for Holy Trinity Crisis Foodbank over the year.
Your generous donations and harvest gifts are enabling us to currently support an average of 48 households (just over 100 individuals) per week, although this will no doubt increase as winter sets in. The majority of households are single people, predominately men, and women few couples, and the remainder families with school-age children.
At Christmas we like to offer 'Christmas dinner in a bag' on addition to the regular 2 days crisis food support. It is also our hope to offer toys for the children, warm hats, gloves and scarves for the adults, and a small gift along with a version of the Christmas story.
We have already been offered a selection of toys for the children, tracts telling the Good News of Christmas, and the small turkey joints for the dinner bags.
We are wondering if you could consider providing 40 small Christmas or sponge puddings and custard to accompany the meal, and a few hats, gloves, scarves and men's toiletries for gifts?
But most of all, please continue to pray for the people who need to access Crisis Foodbank, particularly as the winter days grow darker and colder.
Yours in Christ

Rita
